A Daring Exploit of War.

Rescue of a Captured Ship from the Privateers, and Killing the Prize Crew.

The schooner S. J. Waring, of Brookhaven, from New York for Montevideo, July 4th, with an assorted cargo, returned to New York on Sunday. On the third day out, July 7th, she was brought to by the privateer "Jeff. Davis," which sent a boat full of men alongside, and ordered the captain to haul down the United States flag, and declared her a prize. They took from her a quantity of provisions, and then put on board a prize crew of five men, taking away Capt. Francis Smith and two mates, and two seamen, and leaving the steward, two seamen, and Brice Mackinnon, a passenger, on board. The prize crew were Montague Amiel, a Charleston pilot, in command, one named Stevens as mate, Malcolm Sidney as second mate, and three men. They made a southerly course, and on the 16th July, when fifty miles to the southward of Charleston, the prize captain and the second mate being asleep in their births, the first mate dozing on deck, and the others asleep, Tillman, the steward (colored,) carried out his preconcerted plan of killing the Captain and the two mates with a hatchet, and throwing the bodies overboard.

The job was all done in five minutes, Tillman taking command and steering the schooner northward. One of the remaining men was tied up until the next morning, when he was released upon a promise that he would help to work the vessel. Not one on board understood navigation, but having once got hold of the land, Tillman brought the schooner up to pilot ground, when Charles E. Warner of the pilot boat Jane, took charge of her. One of the schooner's men, Donald McLeod, refused to assist in her recapture, the whole duty falling on the steward and a sailor. The names of the schooner's men are: William Tillman, steward; William Stedding, seaman, who assisted; Donald McLeod, seaman, who refused.

STORY OF THE HERO, A COLORED MAN.

The following is a portion of the story (which is quite interesting) of William Tillman the steward:

He was born of free colored parents in Milford, Delaware, and is 37 years of age. His parents moved to Providence, R. I., when he was 14 years old, and he has since called that place his home. He has followed the sea for ten years, and has been in the employ of Jonas Smith & Co., No. 227 Front street, by whom the schooner was owned, for the last three years. He is of medium height, rather strongly built, crisp hair, of nearly unmixed negro blood, and bears in his countenance an expression of honesty, strong common sense, with some touches of humor.

The schooner S. J. Waring, had started on a voyage to Buenos Ayers, in Montevideo, with an assorted cargo, which, with the vessel, was valued at $100,000. There was on board the Captain and mate; W. Tillman, steward; Wm. Stedding, seaman, born in Germany, 23 years of age, has been sailing four years out of New York; Donald McLeod, seaman, of Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, 30 years of age, has been sailing out of New York for seven or eight years; and Brice Mackinnon, a passenger. On the 7th of July they fell in with the "Jeff. Davis," and a prize crew of five men was put aboard, who were unarmed. To use the language of Tillman:

They run 10 days and didn't find Charleston; we were, however, only fifty miles south of Charleston and one hundred to the eastward. On the voyage they treated me the best kind of way, and talked the best kind of talk. One day the 1st Lieutenant of the pirates was sitting in the cabin, cross-legged, smoking, and he said to me, when you go down to Savannah I want you to go to my house, and I will take care of you. I thought, continued the negro, yes, you will take care of me when you get me there. I raised my hat and said, "Yes, sir, thank you." But after I said to Billy, the German, "I am not going to Charleston a live man; they may take me dead." He had been told by the prize master that he would get rewarded in Charleston for performing his duty as well as bringing the schooner in; he had also heard conversation not intended for his ears, in regard to the price he would probably bring; and he had heard the prize master say to one of his men: "You talk to that steward and keep him in good heart." "By G—d," said the prize master, "he will never see the North again."

Tillman conferred with two of the seamen on taking possession of the schooner; but they declined adopting any plan, saying that none of them knew how to navigate her back, should they succeed in getting control. Tillman thought the matter over for three days and then made an appeal to the German, and said, "If you are a man to stick to your word, we can take this vessel easy." Then we made a plan that I should go to my berth, and when most of them were asleep, he was to give me some sign, or awake me. We tried this for two nights, but no good chance offered. But last Tuesday night we caught them asleep, and we went to work.

[The exceedingly interesting statement of the passenger, Mr. McKinnon, will be given to-morrow.]

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue—
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUG. 21, 1861.

Patriotism above Party.

While the organs of Joe Lane and Jeff. Davis, here and elsewhere in the loyal States, are denouncing the measures of the Government to sustain itself and the Union—taking a course of moral treason against the institutions of the country—we are proud to see, in other loyal States, a disposition to harmonize among the political parties, and make one grand and persistent effort to save the country. Those composing these parties, feel that patriotism is above party; that they must first secure a country and a Government, before they can find a field upon which to discuss questions of minor interest. That is patriotism—pure and holy—and is in bright contrast to that mousing, mean, traitorous policy of Secession editors and leaders in free States, who are seeking to use their positions to advance the interests of the Jeff. Davis party, and to break up the Government.

The Republican party are a large majority of the people of Ohio. See what the Central Committee of this party have done!

"The Republican State Central Committee met July 25th, in the Supreme Court room, (Columbus). All parts of the State were represented. The session was one of peculiar interest. The duty of all classes of citizens in the present juncture of national affairs was fairly recognized. After an animated discussion, the following resolutions, offered by Gen. M. Parsons, Chairman of the Committee, were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It is the duty of all citizens in these times of national perils to lay aside all differences of political opinions, and unite in defense of their Government; therefore,

Resolved, That it is not expedient to call a Convention of the Republican party for the nomination of officers to be chosen at the coming State election.

Resolved, That the Democratic Central Committee be requested to unite with this Committee in a call for a joint delegate Convention, for the purpose of nominating a suitable State ticket, and that the call be addressed to all who are in favor of the unconditional preservation of the Union of the States, of the maintenance of the integrity of the National Government, and of the vigorous and continued prosecution of the war now carried on for that purpose, and that the proposition to said Committee be made by the Executive Committee.

Resolved, That in the refusal of the Democratic Central Committee to accept the proposition for a union by the 10th of August, the Executive Committee be directed to issue to the people of Ohio a call for a Convention of delegates to a nominating Convention, to be chosen without reference to party, upon the simple basis of the maintenance of the Government, and the suppression of the rebellion against it."

Do not these proceedings make the blood course through the veins of every true Union man with delight?

The action of the Republican State Central Committee of Ohio, is likely to be met in the same spirit by the Democratic party of that great State. The Cleveland Plaindealer, which is one of the leading Democratic papers in the State, publishes the following remarks upon the action of the Republican Central Committee:

"Thus they dismiss their political organization and fall back into the ranks of the people, and leave the other political organization to follow suit or fight the people. As the Democratic Convention will meet on the 7th August we confidently expect that the proposition will be accepted, and the great work of the national salvation be allowed to override and supersede all local wrangling and bickerings. The onus of giving to the war a united front in Ohio, is now on the Democracy, and let us meet the proposition in the spirit with which it was made, feeling and knowing that the great State of Ohio is for the preservation of this glorious country intact, and will so decide at the polls, if untrammeled by a majority that will place the balance of the vote in the [illegible]. We know that old stagers, old political hacks of all parties—will struggle hard against coming down to the level with the masses in the management of making the nominations. They will yield up the 'wires' as they would yield up life itself. 'Old Cris,' with two Governorships and a Post Office on his back, will throw up his hands in holy horror, and old 'Inalienable Rights' will leave Canada in a rage, and recognize his old squad at Oberlin, Ashtabula, Xenia and Zanesville."

The Plaindealer recommends that the proposition be met in the spirit in which it was tendered; the result will doubtless be the union of all parties in Ohio upon a ticket for the sake of the Union.

The proceedings we have quoted, and the comments upon them by the leading Democratic paper of Ohio, are worthy of the attentive consideration of the Union-loving citizens of Oregon. We say to these Union citizens—and we do not mean disunionists—the traitorous-tongued supporters of Joe Lane and the South, of whom the Portland Advertiser is the organ, but we speak to all Oregonians who are willing and anxious to drop all party appellations to secure the permanency of our Government—cause its flag to wave over our whole country—and to place the Union of these States on a foundation that shall not be shaken for coming generations. We speak to such patriots—not to traitors who will not answer the simple questions—"Whether they would vote against a loan to enable the Government to put down rebellion?" "Do you desire the success of the Federal Army in the battles now being fought?" American citizens, who dare not answer these questions, in the present condition of the country, must be at heart traitors—and an invocation to "Union men to unite for the sake of the Union," would be lost upon them.

The Famous Jeff. Davis Petition, got up in New York.

The Secession press here have a great sympathy for this petition and its authors. It was got up by the Jeff. Davis men to embarrass, if possible, our Government. It was quietly circulated for some weeks, and had received several hundred signatures, when a statement was given at Police Headquarters by some of the signers, who repented of their act, that they had attached their names under a misapprehension of the true character of the petition, and Superintendent Kennedy was implored to search for the paper, and afford the misguided individuals an opportunity to erase their names. Their wishes were complied with, and the detectives on Friday seized the document at a broker's office in Wall street. It is now in possession of the Superintendent of Police.

An Extraordinary Document.

Five Hundred names Attached to a Secession Petition—An Opportunity Afforded them to Repent.

For some time past, says the New York Post of Saturday, a most extraordinary document has been in circulation in our midst, and has been signed by four hundred and eighty-five names of citizens of New York, praying the President to call a convention of all the States to decide on a peaceable separation of the seceded States from the Union. Several parties who had signed the paper without precisely knowing its import, called on Superintendent Kennedy, yesterday, and told him they had discovered the character of the paper, and desired to erase their names. Officers were immediately sent out, and two petitions of the import and character described were brought in. One of them had four hundred names, the other eighty-five.

The petitions will remain at the Superintendent's office, corner of Broome and Elm streets, for the present, for the purpose of affording an opportunity to those who have affixed their names thereto without understanding the character of the paper to call in and erase their names. Quite a number availed themselves of this privilege last evening, declaring their ignorance of the import of the paper until their attention had been called to it a second time. The following is an exact copy of the petition:

To His Excellency Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States:

The undersigned citizens of New York beg leave to present to you most respectfully the following considerations, to-wit, viz:

While they hold themselves ready to maintain and defend their government, and you as its legal head, they respectfully suggest that the only remaining honorable position for you to take to prevent the horrors of civil war and preserve THE UNION, is to adopt the policy of an IMMEDIATE general convention of all the States, as suggested by your inaugural. If this course would secure a peaceful solution of our national difficulties, and if any State refuses to join said convention to amend the Constitution, or adjust a peaceable separation, it would stand unanimously condemned before the civilized world.

Earnestly deprecating civil war [illegible] brethren, we [illegible] and beseech you to accept this course, which you may rest assured is the real voice of the people.

"WHO ARE SECESSIONISTS?"—The Marysville Appeal answers: "Ignoring entirely the crimes of the confederated rebels, they direct their whole attention to traducing the Executive and Congress, and obviously only wait for an opportunity to go with the South."

The Bactrian Camels sold for two hundred dollars each, at San Francisco, August 12th.

The Skeleton in the Southern Closet.

The Hon. Millard Fillmore has received from South Carolina a most singular paper, which we reprint below, from a Buffalo journal. This, remarks the N. Y. Post, is a savage proposition, which this South Carolinian makes, to murder in cold blood one or two millions of black men. Regarded from the Southern standpoint, as a waste of property, it is bad enough; but the desperation which can lead men to even suggest such wholesale murder is something worse. It shows that, however they would talk of the virtues and peace of the "patriarchal relation," these men believe in their hearts that they really stand upon the verge of a frightful mine. The first thought of a slave-holder, when the liberation of slaves suggests itself to him, is rapine, murder and violence. Whatever they may tell us, or Dr. Russell, they themselves are persuaded that their slaves are a highly dangerous class. Mr. Fillmore's correspondent, however, makes two mistakes. No Northern man has ever expressed a desire that the slaves should be stirred up to murder their masters. And if the white men of the South should ever be so crazed as to attempt a massacre of the adult black population, they would find their hands very full. Here is the document in question:

"Read, Ponder and Digest."

"It is thought by many at the North that we at the South are standing over a magazine of stupendous magnitude, that only wants the application of a match to spread ruin, disaster and death throughout the whole length and breadth of the Confederacy. Northern papers of wide-spread popularity, that may be supposed to reflect public sentiment, to some extent at least, are suggesting in unmistakable terms the propriety of applying the match. Men of the North beware! You who would escape the shedding of oceans of blood, stay your ruthless hands, hold in check your envenomed tongues, restrain your satanic press. For whenever the attempt is made to carry out that fiendish suggestion—a suggestion worthy the lowest, meanest, the most sneaking, and at the same time, bloodthirsty demon that ever buffeted the billows of hell—in the manner indicated, the combustible material of which that magazine is composed will be so saturated with blood that all the fires of hell itself could not ignite them. In other words, whenever the slaves in the border slave States are incited to escape from their owners by hundreds and thousands for the purpose of having Sharp's rifles and Colt's revolvers placed in their hands and marched back to butcher white men, women and children; whenever the slaves in the Gulf States are incited to servile insurrections, and the prospect bids fair for their being converted into demons incarnate, then the slave owners in the South will be found ready to sacrifice every slave from whom danger may be apprehended, even though it involve the destruction, by a concerted and simultaneous movement, of every male slave over the age of fifteen years, or even younger than that, if the necessities of the case seem to require it; and willing hands will certainly be found ready to execute the bloody deed, before Southern men will suffer themselves, their wives and little ones to be butchered, and their daughters worse than butchered by fiends in human form, before they will suffer to any considerable extent the horrors of servile insurrection, the gulf streams will be crimson with the gore, and every Southern river choked with the festering carcasses of slaves. Men of the North, you hold in your hands the lives of half a million of slaves; for as sure as there is a God in heaven, if this war continues, and they, through your instrumentality, become unmanageable, the last one of them will perish. Attempt, if you dare, to turn this portion of our population into vipers, and before they get ready to strike their poisoned fangs into our vitals, their heads will be crushed beneath our heels. Never will they be permitted to become instruments in your hands for our attempted subjugation."

SECESSIONISTS IN CALIFORNIA.—After detailing the fact that an armed band of 100 men, with several cannon and 100 wagons, had been made for immigrants in the Rio Mi[illegible] on [illegible], the Los Angeles Union [illegible], says: "Our informant was told that they were expecting to be joined in a few days by an equal number of men from California. We are also informed by gentlemen recently from [illegible] valley, that a party of from thirty to forty are organizing and fitting out there, with the intention of joining this filibuster party, and Jack Hays, it is confidently asserted, is at the head of this movement in this State. There is no doubt that a movement is on foot in this State, having in contemplation some secret design, whether to revolutionize the State or not, time alone can tell. We think the military authorities on this coast should be vigilant, and act promptly. The traitors ought not to be allowed to gain a foothold in any part of the Pacific coast." There are many Secessionists in this part of the State, who but await a favorable opportunity to [illegible]—they utter treasonable sentiments now.

The [illegible] says: "We [illegible] hear of [illegible] in our city [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] mere boys, [illegible] leave their home [illegible] join the Confederate army, [illegible] prepare themselves [illegible] of [illegible] We yesterday [illegible] the inscriptions [illegible] on the graves of three [illegible] at [illegible] Hill, killed in action, ranging from twelve to nineteen years of age."

CITY.

FOR THE CASCADES.—We learn that Capt. Wright has detailed a detachment of troops from Fort Vancouver to the Cascades, for the purpose of protecting the Government property remaining at that post, from an apprehended attack of the Indians. They are to leave this morning on the Carrie Ladd.

The Missouri Convention have put the Government of that State into gear. The Governor and Lieut. Governor and Secretary of State are true Union men.

The Yreka Journal states that a few days ago a party of nineteen men, with 150 cattle, from Rogue river valley, bound to Washoe, were attacked by the Pit river Indians; two men killed and all the stock driven off. A volunteer company had been raised in [illegible] in pursuit of the Indians.

Hon. John Wentworth, who 25 years ago [illegible] in Chicago, has [illegible] his [illegible] the Press and Tribune, and is about to go to Europe, for health and pleasure.

Senator Latham of California in a speech in the Senate, denounced secession, declared his determination to sustain the Government with men and money to any extent needed to put down rebellion, and charged that the secession leaders of the South had been plotting a dissolution of the Union for years.

The Yreka Journal says that a company recently ascended to the summit of Shasta Butte. They remained on the top near four hours. They could distinctly see a large conical shaped Butte in the north, which they believed was Mount Hood, distant 300 miles. The sight was magnificent from the top of Old Shasta."

We have a letter from Oro Fino which says that the saw mill of A. M. & L. M. Stark, is completed, and is doing a profitable business. This enterprise will not only pay its owners well, but will enable the "Mining City" to improve rapidly. Business was dull. There were twenty-four stores in Oro Fino and any amount of whisky shops. Tracy & Co. were about to put up a large building to be used as an Express Office.

Mr. Leland writes from Oro Fino, that the mines were paying well; that an attempt to prospect on Salmon river was prevented by the Indians; that a portion of the Nez Perces Indians had seceded and formed an alliance with the Snakes; that 300 men were taking up claims on the South Fork; and that a company were about leaving Oro Fino, to prospect the country between that place and Fort Owen.

THE UNITED SOUTH.—The following extract from a New Orleans paper, shows the good unity there is in the South:

"Charges of Abolitionism.—Mayor Monroe has disposed of some of the cases brought before him on charges of this kind, by sending the accused to the workhouse."

While Southerners are sending their wives and families to the North for security, Northerners, who are so unfortunate as to be in the South, are either sent to the workhouse or hung, as the fancy of the chivalry suggests. We have admirers of Southern chivalry here who sympathize with them in all their rascalities.

The last news from Cariboo represents that the melting of the snow and the falling of the rivers had enabled the miners to go to work with fair prospects.

The whole loss of the Federal army at Manassas Junction is set down at 950; 450 were killed.

Fremont is moving in the West, and it is said will increase his army to 150,000 men before moving down to Mississippi.

The New York Times has a severe article on the treatment of Gen. Wool by Secretary Cameron. The Tribune vows to abstain from military criticism hereafter.

Guards of twenty men and more, are sent down to Panama on the steamers from San Francisco. Capt. Walker went with his company on one occasion.

One thousand of Wise's men deserted on their retreat through the Kanawha valley.—This shows that they were fighting against their inclinations.

Mrs. General Gaines, who has an immense fortune in New Orleans, is for the Union.

Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters.—A specific for dyspepsia, diarrhoea, dysentery, general debility, chills and fever, liver complaint, billious remittent fevers, and the pains and weaknesses which creep upon us in old age. For these ailments we quietly invited a trial and a verdict. The trial has come off, the verdict has been rendered, and the Bitters are today the most popular remedy, for the time they have been in existence, in this or any other country. [illegible]

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®
NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

A German in Pennsylvania, who had lost two sons in the battle at Bull's Run, writes to his only son in California:

"My Dear Son: Your dear brothers were killed by the rebels in the battle at Bull's Run, and I wish to God that I had strength enough left me to fill the place of your brothers in the army; but for God's sake and the sake of your father, return home immediately and avenge the death of your two brothers at the hands of the rebels."

The son took passage on the Sonora, and is now on his way to the East to join the army of the Union.

Gen. Shields on the War.—In a Fourth of July oration, delivered by Gen. Shields at Columbia, California, he said:

"The North wishes to regain, protect, take and hold and preserve the public institutions and property which belong to our posterity. If any one refuses or does not feel willing to perform his duty, he is not worthy of his country, and ought not to be allowed to reside in it."

Certificate.—The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted, where a permanent relief from their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay, for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practices of uncontrolled passion [illegible] body and mind [illegible] the most [illegible] duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance—but, alas! after a few weeks and in several instances, months of their treatment, I found, to my unspeakable horror, that instead of relief, my symptoms became more alarming in their [illegible], and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain, medicine would be of little consequence. I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength, and energy, and as a last resort, and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who after examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by the result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, my head became clear, and my ideas collected, the constant pain in my back and groins, the weakness of my limbs, the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the misanthropy and evil forebodings, the self-distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapacity to study and want of resolution, the frightful exciting, and at times [illegible] dreams at night, and the [illegible] discharges, have all disappeared, and in fact in two months after having consulted the doctor I felt as if inspired with a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With this view to [illegible] unfortunate from falling into the snares of ignorant quacks, I deem it my duty to give this testimony to the talent and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience that any unfortunate will be sure of a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

MARYSVILLE, June 3d, 1859.

Dr. L. J. Czapkay, San Francisco—Dear Sir: I have used the last of your medicine, and do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well, except that I have not entirely got my strength yet, but it is well with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I called at your institute, with my complaints, as I thought, being entirely and severe the [illegible] you would be able to cure it perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves, so that I would not be so excited and tremble at everything. Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from all the symptoms, and the removal of the sores and blotches from my skin, and the ulcers from my throat, and the entire stoppage of these emissions, which you said were principally the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having fully got my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charge, and thank myself cheaply answered. If you think anybody will be benefited, you may put this letter in the newspapers. I have my gratefully yours,

THOMAS HAYES.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

Certificate.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves a commendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago I suddenly, and from causes unknown to me was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which, owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon thorough medical treatment, and the discouragement which I met with on attempting it, soon became such that I was then led to believe [illegible] the skill of any physician. I was frequently while in pursuit of my calling thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and as though insensible to the agonies, I yet despised the miseries of my life and was inclined to look upon those who would render assistance to deliver me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the existence of my misery. While in this state, and having, previous to my affliction, tasted the sweets of life, I concluded was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician, and by recommendation called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances and of my inability to reward him for his services; regardless of which, however, he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God, I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and a duty to make the case public in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.
